To Whom It May Concern

It is my pleasure to write on behalf of Christopher Callender, who is applying for actuary positions after graduating from Quinnipiac University (Class of 2023) with a major in Mathematics.

Christopher attended my “Introduction to Philosophy,” “Contemporary Philosophy,” and “Bioethics” courses between the Spring and Fall semesters of 2022, receiving a letter-grade “A” as final overall grade in all three courses. Christopher’s attendance and participation records in these courses were outstanding. It is not difficult for me to recall how well-written and thought-through Christopher’s papers were, the thoughtfulness of his comments, and how respectful he was while actively contributing to class discussions.

Constantly prepared and curious to learn more about recurrent themes and problems in philosophy, Christopher made sure to be on pace with coursework by visiting me during office hours, showing himself to be a self-starter and a responsible student.

It is with no hesitation that I warmly encourage your Selection Committee to hire Christopher Callender as actuary in your enterprise.

Sincerely,
Daniele Botti
